

•Why This Summer Is Important•

After an unprecedented year, students and parents are looking forward to a more routine school experience in Fall 2021. Students will encounter completely new schedules and opportunities, especially college and high school freshmen. It's a situation that places a much higher demand on organization, planning and time management skills, but without the familiar support systems. Classes are more exciting but at the same time, the work becomes more difficult and time consuming. And this year, there is the need to transition from at home/virtual/hybrid learning to in-person learning with all the academic challenges that will present.

Take this opportunity for your student to learn practical, innovative techniques that can improve their executive function skills with a
